Open Range is a family run company located in Surrey, BC. Our pets are beloved members of our family. In fact, you are likely to find our furry friends in the office or taste testing our treats. Our owner started the company as a result of learning about unhealthy antibiotics, hormones and additives in many pet treats. At Open Range, we know that your pets' diet plays a large role in their happiness, energy level and health. Open Range provides high quality, preservative free, all natural pet treats. Our treats are made from free-range, grass fed Brazilian cattle, and free-range water buffalo from India; without the use of hormones or antibiotics. We know your pets will appreciate the quality and love the taste of our delicious treats.

At Open Range we believe that the best way for our premium treats to get into the mouths of our furry friends is through pet specialty stores. This allows the consumer to be well educated and purchase Open Range Natural pet treats with confidence. As a distributor or store owner you can purchase and sell our products knowing that we are not selling direct to the consumer.

We hope you and your pets enjoy our healthy treats!

Shaun White, President

Water buffalo, or bufala, are a completely different species than buffalo, which are actually bison. Water buffalo meat is very lean, containing less than half the fat of beef and 40-60% less cholesterol. It is a rich source of protein, B-group vitamins, vitamin D, niacin, and phosphorus. Water buffalo contains essential minerals such as iron and zinc, with all the proven health benefits. As with all grass fed animals, the meat is also a good source of omega-3-fatty acids. Our pet treats are natural and not over processed. Open Range ensures the very best treats for your pet.
